Argument Court News.

Opinion Given in Centralia Mileage Case. Fee Allowed for Distance Traveled Only.

OTHER ROUTINE BUSINESS.

The regular monthly argument court convened Monday morning at 9.15 o'clock. All the judges were present. It was expected that the session would be a busy one but not a singlecase was called for argument. All on the list was continued and the business was all finished in the morning.

In the case of Adam Waldner vs. Centralia and Conyngham Poor District. Judge Little decided that John Moran was entitled to mileage for the distance actually traveled by him in serving papers. It will be remembered tnat Moran claimed mileage from Bloomsburg to Centralia and return, totaling 120 miles and amounting to $7.20, whereas in reality he had traveled only four miles. The prothonotary was ordered to pay him mileage for that distance.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

Mr. Magee, General Manager of the Carpet Mill Entertains His Employees.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

The Entertainment and Ball at the Carpet Mill on Saturday evening, given by Mr. James Magee 2nd, the general manager, to the employees, was a decided success and will long live in the memories of those present as an epoch making time in the history of the Magee Carpet Co.

There were about 400 people present and right thoroughly did they enter into the spirit of the thing. The loud clapping of hands and other forms of approval that greeted the different entertainers went to prove how a Bloomsburg audience knows a good thing when they see and hear it, and not only that but they certainly know how to appreciate it.

The program opened with "My Country 'tis of Thee," which was sung by the audience with marked feeling. The second item was a March entitled "Santiago" by Mr. J. D. Goss, on the concertina and Mr. Wilbur Hower on the piano. The loud applause which greeted their efforts was evidence enough of their popularity as public entertainers.

The third item "Only a dream of the Golden Past," was highly appreciated. Mr. Arthur Maynard's superb voice having a telling effect on the audience. The fourth item proved to be one of the hits of the evening. In "Matrimonial Sweets" by Miss D. Geisinger and Mr. A. F. McCollum, the singing, style, and the ludicrous manner in which they portayed the secrets of "Matrimonial Sweets" fairly captivated the audience and were greeted with the loud applause they certainly deserved. The fifth item, a reading entitled, "Aunt Tibetha" by Miss Nora McPherson, was certainly a fine effort, Miss McPherson holding her audience from start to finish. The sixth item, "The Holy City," by Mr. Brown on the mandolin, Mr. B. Lanyon on the guitar and Mr. Goss on the dulcimer, was a taking feature and made an impression on the audience who greeted it with the loud applause it certainly deserved. The seventh portion was a comic song by Mr. Jas. Lawlor Sr. entitled "I am lost." Mr. Lawlor has a powerful voice which needs no music. The comic nature of the song and the telling manner in which it was rendered made it excsedingly amusing to the audience who greeted it with loud applause. The eighth part, a vocal duet by Misses M. Yohe and A. Kemp entitled "Just next door" waa a sweet effort, and the attentive audience marked the pleasing effect it produced. The ninth item, song and dance "The Factory Lad" by Mr. J. D. Goss accompanied by Prof. Metherell and Wilbur Hower on the violin and piano respectively again demonstrated the proficiency acquired by the gentlemen named. Mr. Goss's portrayal of a Lancashire lad on his way to work was certainly a good one and the manner in which Mr. Goss acquitted himself in the clog dance was one of the decided features of the evening. Mr. Roscoe Ent then highly interested and amused the party with a stump speech entitled "Bangs's Music." His delivery fully justified the loud applause that greeted his efforts.

The dancing and games were thoroughly enjoyed by all and added in no small way to the amusements of the evening. The Cake Walk passed off in great style, Mr. Keete Warner and Miss Wren, Mr. Allison and C. Gerringer, Mr. Girton and Miss Faux and Misses M. Yohe and A. Kemp taking part, the first prize going to Mr. Warner and second to the Misses Yohe and Kemp, the audience being convulsed with laughter thrughout. The highest praise must be given to the musicians who catered so well to the requirements of the dancers. The refreshments were all that could be desired, consisting of ham sandwiches, Frankfurters, hard-boiled eggs, pickles, sweitzer cheese, coffee, ice cream, cake, candy and nuts. The expedition with which this large assemblage was served was admirable and remarkable. The nicety of the arrangements and the quick service was due to the intelligent planning and management of Miss Kelly, who gave much time and thought to the work, and its successful culmination showed how well she did it. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Law, Mrs. Cook, Mrs Titel, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Mover, Mrs. Gearinger, Mrs. Werkheiser, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, and Mrs Naylor, to all of whom Mr. Magee extends his thanks for their very valuable assistance, as well as to all who in any way contributed to the eminent success of the occasion. Miss Geisinger of Espy presided at the piano as accompanist and assisted in the program in a very acceptable manner. The piano was from the room of Chas. M. Stieff on Iron street. Mr. Law as Master of Ceremonies handled his forces like a general, and was ably assisted by the various committees consisting of the following persons:

Master of Ceremonies—W. M. Law.

Floor and Order—H. Brennard, J. Titel, J. Morris, J. Byram, Miss L. E. Kelly.

Entertainment—A. B. Naylor, R. Moyer, A. F. McCollum, A. A. Drum.

Fixtures and Decorating—L. Smith, P. Werkheiser. W. Pooley, W. Hoffman, Geo. Bills.

Games—J. Byram, O. Aust, A. McHenry, A. H. Cook.

Electrician—N. E. Faux.

Such an entertainment as this is an indication of good fellowship existing between employer and employees. It has its influence not only on the Carpet Mill, but indirectly upon the entire community. The evening's frolic was a novel one, made very attractive in every possible way by those having it in charge, especially by the ladies who always know just what to do and how to do it. Mr. Magee, the host of the evening, the Generalissimo and master-spirit of the entire affair, can pat himself on the back and accept his own congratulations as well as those of all the participants, on having conceived and managed so colossal an entertainment, to the entire satisfaction and great pleasure of all his guests.

NOT THE MEN WANTED.

The usual quiet and serenity of last Sunday morning was rudely disturbed by the appearance in town of two suspicious looking characters who got off the Berwick car. They were arrested by Chief of Police Knorr, but not until they had given him and his assistants a lively chase from Main Street down thorough the bog in the vicinity of the Harman-Cogger plant. Chief Knorr had previously been informed of a robbery which had been committed at the residence of Harry June, in Berwick early in the morning, and was on the lookout for individuals whose appearance was in any way suspicious. He spied these fellows get off the car, and he at once concluded that they were the guilty party. As they were brought up town, the curiosity of the people was at fever heat, and a crowd that completely filled the street gathered. They were taken to Berwick, where they proved an alibi and were discharged. If they were innocent it is hard to understand why they took to flight.

Fumigated.

Under the supervision of Drs. Arment and Goff a sanitary election was held in Centralia Tuesday, all the official papers being thoroughly fumigated. The returns and return judges also were subjected to a disinfecting process before they were permitted to begin their journey to the county seat.

"HEARTS AND FACES."

The entertainment given by Mrs. Edith C. Rick in the Opera House last Thursday night was attended by one of Bloomsburg's best audiences, and for this reason there may have appeared to be a lack of appreciation because there was no vociferous applause. Bloomsburg audiences of the better class are not noisy. They quietly enjoy what is before them, and show some outward manifestation of approval, but they are not given to enthusiastic outbursts, and seldom, if ever, indulge in curtain calls, and for the reason the reputation has gone abroad that we are cold and unappreciative. This is a mistake however, for the after-talk shows that any performance of merit is always fully appreciated and thoroughly enjoyed. So it was with Mrs. Rick's monologue, which is both unique and novel. It is her own production, and she presents it in a most charming manner. She appears in seven different characters, namely, the child, the school girl, the debutante, the bride, the wife, the mother, the grandmother, each of which she acts to perfection. It is hard to conceive that the little girl of twelve, and the aged lady of seventy-five are represented by the same person. In the sixth scene, as the mother, she has all sorts of trouble with her four children. At the close of the act a gentleman sitting just behind us remarked, "She does that right up to nature. I have four children at home myself."

The entertainment abounds with humor that brings laughter to the hearers, with keen thrusts at the foibles of fashionable society, and with pathos that moistens many an eye. Mrs. Rick was a success, and it was a great pleasure to hear her. The stage was handsomely set, and much improved by the additional lights recently put in by Manager Fowler. Mrs. Rick's costumes are elegant and appropriate, and these unite with her attractive face and form to make a very pretty picture.

Mrs. Grant Herring had the entire charge and responsibility of this production, and the people of Bloomsburg are indebted to her for a delightful performance. She managed the whole affair admirably, and succeeded in clearing a nice sum of money which will be handed over to the Lutheran church.

British View of West Point

SURROUNDINGS BEAUTIFUL AND INSPIRING AND ARCHITECTURE OF THE BEST

A CORRESPONDENT of the London Times, who recently visited the United States, has many interesting things to say about our great military training school.

West Point, he writes among other things, as its name in part suggests, is point on the left bank of the Hudson er, about 45 to 50 miles from the sea. The point stands out well into the stream, commanding both reaches which form the angle of the river. In front of the now obsolete defenses that defend the waterway on the far bank, rise the succession of verdure-clothed hills which finally mass themselves into the Highlands. Owing to the erratic formation of the hills the Hudson here is narrow, deep and turgid, so that the race of its congested waters, if it were not for the forest setting to the background, might remind the traveler of the pent-up Nile in the Shablukah cataract. The view to the north is perfect, since the river way is clear as far as Newburg town, nestling against the mountain side and gleaming white in contrast with the forests in summer green. The landscape is like some stageland. Historic Newburg, where Washington is fabled to have refused a crown, terminates the view, but on either side of the middleway of the river great buttresses and promontories of wood-dressed rock jut out into midstream, while, almost flush with the water level on either Hudson bank, the wondrous handicraft of man interlaces with the supreme work of nature. Here tunneling some gigantic promontory, there glistening upon a trestle causeway, the railroad tracks follow the line of the river in its sinuous course. Then shut the river from your view, and turn and look inland, where the cadets learn the theory of war. West Point itself is close upon 200 feet above the level of the Hudson. But beyond it the hills rise to double and treble this height. As with the Highlands, they are densely wooded, and for the moment, as one marks the one-storied bungalows and veranda-inclosed villas of the post, one's thoughts turn to far-off India and the Himalayas. In scenery, atmosphere and surroundings, but for the Hudson, West Point is not unlike an Indian hill station.

The summit of the point is flat and clear of trees. This is the parade ground, and round it are grouped the various institutions of the academy, the quarters of the married instructors, and the barracks in which the detachments of the regular army are housed. On the river side there are several tiers of batteries. These, of course, are obsolete, but they serve their purpose in furnishing instruction schools for the cadets.

There is nothing mean about the architecture with which the United States government has surrounded its military cadets. The headquarters buildings, the riding school, cadets' barracks, library and gymnasium are all fine buildings, and to these have now been added the garrison officers' mess house and the Cullum Memorial hall, the former a beautiful clubhouse, erected at government expense, for the 60-odd officers who hold appointments as academy instructors; the latter a magnificent public entertainment hall, with spacious ballroom, theater, library and underground bedrooms, raised in the interest of the cadets and past graduates from funds bequeathed by Gen. Cullum.

The little post is beautified with other memorials. Near the flagstaff, to the north of the parade ground, stands a handsome monument to the memory of all West Point graduates who fell during the civil war. There is another monument to perpetuate the memory of the late Maj. Dale's command, which was annihilated by Indians in 1835. Dotted about the post are statues of eminent American generals, and into prominent rocks the names of famous battles have been inserted, the lettering usually being of gun metal, a trophy from that particular engagement it commemorates. Altogether, the surroundings of West Point are beautiful and inspiring; and, far removed from the evil influences of town life, the cadets find there just the necessary relaxation to save them from mental breakdown. A certain amount of social intercourse is open to them through their dancing hall. The countryside in the environs of West Point is studded with the country villas of wealthy New Yorkers. During the summer there is no difficulty in arranging partners for the dancing lessons, as all fashionable New York has fled the city to escape the heat. Thus the cadets obtain just sufficinet social intercourse to make them polished gentlemen, but not enough to turn their heads.

SICKLES FOR ALDERMAN.

Famous New York War Veteran Seeks Comparatively Humble Office in New York.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, who has been nominated for alderman in New York on the fusion ticket, has an illustrious war record. He was born October 20, 1825, and after receiving a common school education learned the printer's trade. Then he studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1846. Next he became secretary of legation in London, later being elected state senator in New York, and serving in congress from 1857 to 1861. Entering the union army, he won promotion to a major generalship and, though he lost a leg at Gettysburg, continued in active service until 1869, when he was appointed minister to Spain. Later he served another term in congress.

BUFFALO BILL'S WIT.

Doctor Thought He Was Mighty Smart, But He Was No Match for Mr. Cody.

William F. Cody was relating a story which concerned an Indian who had met with an accident in a "Buffalo Bill" show. It was necessary to amputate the Indian's leg, and in the description of this operation Cody was interrupted frequently by a young doctor who injected technical and medical terms into the straight vernacular of the scout. He was irritated, but ignored the doctor. "A few days after the operation," continued the narrator, "the Indian learned that his leg had been burned. With a whoop he leaped from his bed and jumped upon the doctor with both feet."

HON. WILLIAM F. CODY.
(Better Known to the People of America as "Buffalo Bill.")

"Jumped with both feet after an operation," shouted the doctor, exulting in his exposure of the great scout's absurd story.

"I said upon the 'doctor with both feet,'" explained Cody, "in order to distinguish him from the other hospital physician who had only one foot, having put the other into people's affairs so often that he lost it."

THE EARL OF SPENCER.

May Become Prime Minister of Great Britain If Liberals Return to Power.

According to all accounts, it is now practically settled that, should the liberal party return to power as the result of the present political crisis in Great Britain, the premiership will be handed over to the earl of Spencer. Lord Spencer, who for years has been a liberal of immense influence, is, perhaps, best known throughout the country for the vigorous policy pursued by him as viceroy of Ireland, but he also was a prominent member of two Gladstone cabinets, originally as first lord of the admiralty, and afterward as president of the council.

It can be said that the "Red Earl," as Lord Spencer is called, is the equal of Lord Rosebery, or Mr. Asquith, as a statesman, but he is regarded as the only liberal leader of the first rank under whom the various disagreeable factions of the party of Gladstone could work in harmony at the present time. It is practically certain that neither Lord Rosebery, nor Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the present liberal leader, would care to hold office under the premiership of the other, but pretty well authenticated report has it that both would be willing to hold portfolios in a cabinet presided over by Lord Spencer. In such case Lord Rosebery probably would become secretary of state for foreign affairs, while it is thought that Sir Henry would be made a peer, and thus transferred to the upper house, Mr. Asquith becoming leader of the house of commons, with the ticklish job on his hands of circumventing the assaults of Mr. Chamberlain, who would almost certainly be the leader of the opposition.

THE EARL OF SPENCER.
(Acknowledged Leader of the Liberal Party in England.)

It has never been said of the "Red Earl" that he has had any great ambition for the premiership, and although he has held various offices in parliament and at court, he is much attached to the life of a country gentleman. He owns 27,000 acres in Northamptonshire, and his half brother is his heir.

ENTERPRISING BEGGARS.

Turkish Minister Thinks Mendicants of Philadelphia Are Nervier Than All Others.

Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister to Washington, attended in Philadelphia the recent launching of the Turkish warship, Medjidia, at the Cramps' shipyard. During the luncheon following the launch, Chekib Bey animadverted for a moment on the beggars of Philadelphia. "You have here," he said, "an enterprising and intelligent collection of beggars. One of them approached me this morning. He told a moving tale of misfortune; then he asked me for a little money; I put my hand in my pocket to find that I was altogether out of change. 'My man,' I said, 'I have nothing for you now, but in an hour I shall be passing this way again. Then, I promise you, you shall get something from me.' 'All right, sir,' said the beggar; 'but all the same,' he added, fretfully, 'you wouldn't believe the amount of credit I give in this way.'"

Human Ostrich Not Wanted.

Lee W. Wright, "the human ostrich," who eats oyster shells, pieces of glass, tacks, buckles, wire nails and tough articles of that kind, lately applied for a place as clerk in the Mobile post office. The officials deemed him an unsafe man to have around, and he was so informed.

Birds Fear Earthquakes.

During a recent earthquake in North Wales the birds showed signs of extreme terror. One would imagine that of all creatures, birds have the least reason to be afraid of an earthquake; yet it seems to affect them with the same violent fear as those which are tied to the earth.

A CURIOUS VIOLIN.

Strange Musical Instrument Made from a Lobster's Claw by a New Jersey Genius.

The only violin in the world made from the claw of a giant lobster has just been completed by John H. Dadmun, of 429 Berkley street, Camden, N. J. This unique instrument, strange to say, can be made to produce as sweet musical tones as any high-class violin. Its owner gives the following as the story of its life:

The lobster from which the claw was taken was caught off Gloucester, Mass., in March, 1862. In time it came to Concord, N. H., where Mr. Dadmun saw it. At that time the lobster weighed 17½ pounds. A single claw weighed 5½ pounds. The claw that Mr. Dadmun preserved, after the lobster had gone the way of such things, was 13¼ inches long, 7 inches broad and 3¼ inches thick.

LOBSTER CLAW VIOLIN.
(Curious Instrument Made by a Man in New Jersey.)

Preserved among other curiosities of the Dadmun household, the giant claw remained a claw for many years. One day it occurred to its owner that it was shaped something like a violin, and he tried the experiment of fashioning it to look more like that popular musical instrument. After much patient effort Mr. Dadmun managed to transform the claw into a violin that could be played. The tone was sweet, but not loud enough for an orchestra. Experiment proved that by changing the fittings and settings the tone could be made much louder. As it is now the violin when played properly sounds exactly like any other violin. It is doubtless the most curious musical instrument ever made.

POLITE POTATO FREAK.

After Being Supplied with a Hat This Tuber Closely Resembled Human Form.

The military looking potato whose portrait is presented herewith, was grown by a New York farmer. Neither the man who dug the potato nor those who packed it recognized its lifelike appearance and expression. It was unusually large, weighing a trifle more than a pound and a half. When it came to be packed its size attracted the attention of the farmer, who placed it carefully on the top of the barrel which was to bring it to New York.

AMUSING POTATO FREAK.
(New York Tuber Closely Resembles the Human Form.)

It chanced that the commission merchant who unpacked the potatoes was a man of imagination, and he instantly recognized the semblance to the human form. The only artificial additions since it left the ground before being photographed were the hat and the pipe and the eyes. It will be seen that these adjuncts merely lend an appearance of brightness.

Killed by Eating Rat Pie.

Charles Wingate, aged 60 years, died from poisoning by strychnine, at Peoria, Ill. Mrs. Wingate, who has been much troubled by rats, made two pies. One of these she prepared for table use; in the other she put a large dose of strychnine. It was the intention of Mrs. Wyngate to place the rat pie on the floor of the closet, but she neglected to do so, and her husband, coming in hungry when she was not in the room, took the first pie he saw and ate it. Unfortunately, it was the wrong pie. The coroner's jury censured Mrs. Wyngate for leaving the poison in a manner so easily mistakable.

Good Roads Worth Money.

There are at least five ways in which good roads will put money into the farmer's pockets or prevent its being spent wastefully; for a good road will economize time and force in transportation between farm and market, it will enable farmers to take advantage of market fluctations in buying and selling, it will permit transportation of farm products and purchased commodities during times of comparative leisure, it will reduce the wear and tear on harness, horses and vehicles and it will enhance the market value of real estate.

ARE GAME WARDENS.

Every Constable Is a Fire, Fish and Game Warden, With Full Power to Enforce Laws.

Judge Ehrgood, of Lebanon county, in charge to the grand jury last week, upon its presentation of the regular court report, has brought to the attention of the authorities throughout the state the duty of constables as game and fish wardens. Judge Ehrgood being quoted, a state authority says: "It is not generally known that every constable is a game, fish and fire warden, with full power to enforce any laws for the protection of game and fish. Violations of these laws can be reported to the constable, and they must act.

"A few weeks ago a Luzerne county constable refused to act when called on, and he was tried and convicted. Constables can arrest without a warrant any person caught violating the game and fish laws. Such arrest can be made on Sunday. They can also search suspected persons and places to find game or fish, and do not need to have a search warrant to take possession of such game and fish when discovered. Constables can not be held liable for such action." This information is contained in an official circular just issued.

"Constables receive, besides the regular fees, $10 for every arrest and conviction of fish, fire or game offenders. Half is paid by the county, and the other half by the state. The law says they shall make quarterly returns to court of all such offenses, and it is the duty of the judges to see that they make these reports. These reports shall be of cases of which they have personal knowledge, or of which they shall have notice by writing, giving names of offenders and witnesses. This law passed May 22, 1899."

During the summer season fishermen complain that the law is constantly being violated and now that the game season is open, complaints in regard to its evasion will soon follow.

A Real Run On the Bank.

Foreign coal miners saw posters announcing the play, "A Run on the Bank," at Barnsboro, Pa., on Wednesday, and suspected the First National bank was the bank meant. They started a run in earnest, which the bank was able to meet with the assistance of Barnes & Tucker, the local coal operators. Many of the foreigners took their money to the firm, to have it taken care of. The cash was replaced in the bank and paid out several times.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, November 2, 1903.

Mr. Bristow's report on the postal scandals has been given to the President, but there is no danger of its being given to the public, just at present, while there is an election about to take place in eleven states of the Union. It is said that the President is going over the report carefully and that before making it public he will supplement it with some comments of his own. As it contains over a million words, which would make 2,000 pages of an ordinary government document, it will probably take Mr. Roosevelt some time to finish it. Postmaster General Payne is now preparing his letter of transmittal, to accompany the report. There seems good authority for the statement that Mr. Bristow makes grave accusations against Perry S. Heath, the former First Assistant Postmaster General and present secretary of the republican national committee, of which Mark Hanna is chairman. The Tulloch charges accused Heath of juggling payrolls, giving sinecures to women and political friends, and sending politicians around the country at government expense ostensibly on official business; but it is said that Mr. Bristow charges him with official corruption similar to that for which Beavers and Machen are now indicted. However, like Congressman Littauer in the glove contracts, he will probably be saved by the statute of limitations. It looks as if the republicans will hardly dare retain him as secretary of the national committee; but perhaps he hopes for something "equally as good." The irregularities discovered in the New York Post Office are of such a grave character that the President has directed Mr. Bristow's inspectors to subject it to a rigid investigation. They will leave for New York in a few days and will have a month or six weeks to complete their work. The head of the New York office is Postmaster Van Cott, a close personal friend of Senator Platt who has done all he can to defend him and who will fight any attempt to remove him. Although no distinct charges have as yet been made against Van Cott, his removal has been so frequently discussed as to alarm Senator Platt and his other friends.

⁂

The Maryland campaign is the chief topic among politicians here. Senator Gorman has taken the stump and is leading the democrats in an attack on the administration, which is causing the republicans the gravest alarm. He again scores the President for his interference in the state campaign and for his championing the colored race by dining Booker Washington. He said in his last speech, "Unfortunately the President of the United States—and I speak of him as the President ought always be spoken of, with respect,—goes from one end of the country to the other intensifying the race issue. He well knows that all thoughtful men of the South without exception, unless it be politicians who want the votes of the negroes, and every thoughtful man of the North, has reached the conclusion that no greater crime was ever committed against good government, no greater crime has ever been perpetrated against the women of the South, than the emancipation of the negro by constitutional amendment. The President of the United States with an impulsiveness and thoughtlessness which would hardly be excused in a small boy in this community, has a faculty of expressing himself which has become dangerous to the peace of the community. He has interfered in our state and has tried to stimulate the republicans by inviting them to a harmony meeting and to sit around the table at which Booker Washington sat.,, He declared further that by his interfering with matters which did not properly belong to his office the President had unsettled business interests. Isidor Rayner, the democratic candidate for the United States Senate spoke along the same lines declaring himself for the disfranchisement of the negro as a matter of self preservation. Senator Gorman now stands out as the leader of the opposition to the President on his attitude on the race question and this will probably be made the issue of the coming presidential campaign; unless the republicans refuse to nominate Mr. Roosevelt who stands for equal opportunity for black and white.

⁂

According to the official figures our merchant marine has now reached the highest point in the history of the country, and this remarkable growth was regardless of the fact that there was no ship subsidy act passed. The total tonnage amounts to 6,087,345 tons, which places us second to Great Britain in the merchant marines. As her tonnage exceeds 16,000,000 it will be some time before we can hope to occupy first place. The growth of our marine began in 1900, when the five million mark was passed for the first time in many years. Since then the progress has been so rapid that the advocates of a ship subsidy will be at a loss for arguments when the measure is brought up at the regular session of Congress.

⁂

Gigantic land frauds on the Pacific Coast have been under secret investigation by the Interior Department for some time. Such startling rumors have escaped that Secretary Hitchcock has promised to make a comprehensive statement in the course of the next few days. The first public developement was the suspension from office of Asa B. Thomson, receiver of the United States Land Office at La Grand, Oregon. Thomson has been indicated for receiving bribes. It is said that the Department's investigation will involve United States Senator Mitchell and Representative Williamson, both republicans from Oregon, who recommended Thomson's appointment. It is known that Secretary Hitchcock's feelings toward these men has been very bitter since the investigation started. Many government officials and members of the Congress are believed to be implicated in these land frauds and startling revelations are daily expected.

⁂

According to the annual report of Commissioner General Frank P. Sargent of the Bureau of Immigration there has been a large increase in immigration to this country during the last fiscal year, when 357,046 foreigners crossed our borders. The greatest number, over 230,000 came from Italy, while Austra-Hungary furnished over 206,000. From the Oriental countries came nearly 20,000 Japanese and over 2,000 Chinese. 135,667 of the immigrants could neither read nor write. The total amount of money brought with them amounted to $16,117,513. 8,769 alien immigrants were rejected, because they were paupers, diseased or contract laborers. Counting second and first cabin immigrants who arrived in this country last year, makes the number very near the million mark.

NEW SWINDLE BEING WORKED.

Unsuspecting Farmers are Made the Victims of the Successful Game.

A story of a slick pair of swindlers, who work as clever a scheme as the envelope game in the side show or the time worn lightning rod act, and who trimmed a farmer out of fifty dollars, has just come to light. It is a new game and the unsuspecting farmer plays the victim. These sharpers are expected to remain in this section as long as they prosper through this new game.

William Rushmore, a farmer who resides near Herrick Centre, in Luzerne county, was the victim. He was busily engaged in fixing his fence along the public road Wednerday afternoon when a well dressed stranger walked by with his eyes glued on the ground. The farmer questioned him and learned that the city gent had purchased a diamond ring for $600 on a speculating scheme, and while passing that point earlier in the morning had lost it. He gave his address as Scranton and told the farmer that he would give $100 for the return of the ring.

A short time after Rushmore saw a seedy individual drop his pipe along the roadway, and when stooping to pick it up, utter an exclamation of delight. Rushmore rushed to his side and found the man admiring a ring. He spoke to the farmer saying the ring was a gem, but being little but a tramp, he could not dispose of it. The farmer wanted to buy it for $10, but the man insisted on receiving $50. Rushmore saw a chance to turn $50 and agreed, paying the amount mentioned. Then the farmer made for Scranton. There he failed to find the office of the well dressed gentleman. Inquiry at a jeweler's proved the alleged gem, in gross lots, to be worth about $1.25 per dozen. There is little prospect that the swindlers will ever be found.

Don't forget the old man with the fish on his back.

For nearly thirty years he has been traveling around the world, and is still traveling, bringing health and comfort wherever he goes.

To the consumptive he brings the strength and flesh he so much needs.

To all weak and sickly children he gives rich and strengthening food.

To thin and pale persons he gives new firm flesh and rich red blood.

Children who first saw the old man with the fish are now grown up and have children of their own.

He stands for Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil—a delightful food and a natural tonic for children, for old folks and for all who need flesh and strength.

W. W. Black, Democrat leads Evans, Republican, 1358.

ELECTION WAS TAME.

The election in town was very tame. This was because there were no contests on. There was absolutely no manifestation of interest on the streets, and even at the polling places, where crowds usually congregate, to get a line on how things are going, everything was quiet. There were a few of the hard workers of both parties out making an effort to get the delinquent voters to the polls, but the known one sidedness of the affair, made the arousing of enthusiasm impossible. In the evening, the lack of interest was again demonstrated. Party headquarters were deserted as early as ten o'clock. The anly manifestation of interest was in the outcome of the mayoralty contest in New York City, and as soon as that was learned, everybody apparently left the streets.

THE ELECTION.

The Democrats swept Maryland, Warfield's plurality for Governor is 9,000 and carries with it the legislature and the election of a U. S. Senator. Geo. B. McClellan, the Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York City, was elected by over 63,000 plurality, defeating Seth Low.

The Republican state candidates are elected by 213,000, in Pennsylvania.

Ohio and Massachusetts elected Republican Governors. Chas. B. Staples, Democrat is elected Judge in the Monroe Pike district and Allison O. Smith, Democrat, gets the same position in Clearfield county. Republicans were elected in every other judicial districts where elections were held for that position.

George Maiers was elected Sheriff of Montour county by a majority of 23. W. L. Sidler was re-elected Register and Recorder without opposition.

The vote was light all over the state.

Dark Hair

Geo. Yellott, Towson, Md.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. HIGHWAY ROBBERIES.

There is an epidemic of highway robberies near Harrisburg. Within the past four weeks eleven robberies have occurred between that city and Mechanicsburg. On Wednesday morning nine farmers going to market were held up by four masked men and relieved of cash ranging from $50 to $300, besides some produce. One woman was robbed of $200, and when she cried they gave her back a quarter. One man who resisted was stabbed four times but not fatally. This is a nice state of affairs in a thickly populated section near the state capital.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The home of Commissioner and Mrs. Fisher in Main township was the scene of a large and happy gathering on Tuesday. It was the anniversary of Mrs. Fisher's birth and right royally was the event celebrated. A dinner fit for a king was served. The following guests contributed to the pleasure of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fisher, Mr and Mrs. Ed. Haunty, Mrs. W. H. Kramm, Mrs. Sechler. of Limestoneville; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fisher and daughter Irene, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. John, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bogart, of Espy; W. F. Bodine of Bloomsburg.

Richard Baxter.

A story of New England life entitled Richard Baxter, by General Edward F. Jones, of Binghamton N. Y. who has become famous not only through his business enterprises, in which he originated the saying "Jones he pays the freight," but as the Lieutenant Governor for six years of the State of New York, and as an Officer in the Civil War. Judging from the advance sheets this story is one of great power. It is interesting, instructive and amusing, full of genuine humor and delightful character sketches, and not lacking in sentiment and pathos. It will carry old New Englanders brck to the days of their youth.

General Jones, who is blind, fully appreciating the sad condition of those similarly afflicted, has generously offered to donate a percentage of the profits from the sale of this book to the Columbia Polytechnic Institute for the Blind at Washington, D. C., so that everyone who buys Richard Baxter will not only get full value for their money, but will have the satisfaction of helping a most worthy cause.

ROHRSBURG AND VICINITY.

Wm. Musselman, who has been much afflicted and impoverished by protracted sickness in his family—the loss of his wife who was an invalid in bed for nearly a year, and the loss of two children, his mother a care upon him and two children and his present wife hardly able to be around; himself a cripple, deserves public sympathy. He has been very successful in the sale of furs, old iron and rubber. People will find a good market with him in the sale of old rubber, old iron and furs, as the fur season is just coming in. Farmers and huntsmen will do well to reserve these articles, as he will call on them during the season and pay them the cash. Bring them to Rohrsburg on every Saturday henceforth, he will be there. He has now a fine collection and will send to market when he gets the requisite quantity of the above articles from the farmers and huntsmen.

E. J. Bowman has been a long while afflicted with asthma followed by nervous prostration.

A. A. Overhauser, of Stroudsburg, has purchased Exchange hotel, Benton, and it is undergoing thorough renovation. It will soon have handsome accommodations for the traveling public. Mr. H. O. Heil, of Quakertown, is proprietor, and has opened bar, and rooms are now ready to be occupied. This hotel will be an ornament to Benton as well as advantageous to the public. Mr. Heil is an excellent landlord.

E. M. Laubach of Forks, has facilities for making the best cider apples will make and has been doing fine work this year. His saw mill, chop mill and farm keep him busy besides the help he employs.

Choral Society

A meeting of the Choral Society was held in the Parish House on Tuesday evening. As there has been some difficulty in finding a musical director, the object of the meeting was to determine whether the society would have to disband. After some discussion it was decided to make another effort to secure the services of Dr. Mason, and a committee was appointed for that purpose. The organization showed what it could do at its concert last spring, and it would be a misfortune to have it go to pieces. It is capable of great things. If a leader can be secured work will begin very soon.

The Episcopal Fund.

The committee on the increase of the Episcopal fund in the Central Pennsylvania diocese met Tuesday Sunbury. The committee is expected to raise $60,000, and Tuesday it was reported that $9,000 had already been raised. Among other business transacted was the assignment of chief centers of the diocese for canvassing. After the preliminary canvass it was decided to send out a salaried clerical solicitor to cover the rest of the diocese.

Mad Dog Causes Heavy Loss.

A dispatch from Wilkes-Barre to the Press says:—Nineteen cows of a herd owned by Albert Lewis, a wealthy resident of Bear Creek, ten miles from here, were bitten by a mad dog about ten days ago, and it is feared that the entire herd will have to be destroyed.

The dog was killed by a lumberman and the head sent to the Live Stock Sanitary Board of Philadelphia for examination of its brain, which proved that it had rabies.

The herd has been placed separately in quarantine and is being closely watched.

It is believed that a number of other cows and dogs in that vicinity have been bitten and the farmers are greatly aroused.

State Veterinarian Pierson, of Harrisburg, has notified the local authorities to quarantine all animals suspected of having been bitten.

"Why, how is that? Yesterday you were in bed with a cold which threatened to develop into pneumonia."

"Oh, I bought a bottle of Rishton's COLD-I-CURE and I am now entirely well."

"Don't it upset your stomach?"

"No indeed, and it is so pleasant to take."

"How much is it?"

"Only 25 cents a bottle."

"Thank you for telling me about it, I will go right down to Rishton's Drug Store and get a bottle."

Isaiah Hagenbuch established a record with the hook and line on Tuesday. He caught over a hundred good sized white chubs in about three hours, and he don't claim to know very much about the art either. He did nearly as well the day before. His success has caused many of the followers of Isaac Walton to marvel. The fish were all caught at a point a little below Boone's Dam.

Work on the construction of the Danville and Bloomsburg Electric railway, it is believed will soon be started. The Company, we understand has been bonded, and the road is now an assured fact. Danvillians have reason to feel jubilant. The new life creating influence of a trolley road in a town cannot be overestimated. It brings more people to town, stimulates trade, and makes it seem more city like. In fact the benefits of a trolley road are manifold.

What would you think of the merchant who offered you two buttons in change for a silver dollar—wouldn't you kick? It would be about as insulting to your intelligence as it would were the merchant to try and palm off some of his own cheap mixtures for some well-known reputable food or medicine which has name for purity, strength and value. A reputation which has stood the test of time cannot be knocked out by such silly tricks. The dealer soon finds that his old customers lose faith in him and he loses trade by such practices.

One of the largest meetings the Wheelmen have ever had was held Monday evening. The entertainment question was taken up and it was unanimously decided to give a show about Thanksgiving. The entertainment will be of the variety sort and will be a continuous performance. The club contains some of the town's best talent in the histrionic line, and with the outside assistance they have secured, the forthcoming entertainment from an artistic standpoint, should be a success. As to the financial outcome there is little to be feared. The Wheelmen are popular and all their friends will want to see them on this occasion. We rather expect to see this show smash the Opera House record. What the Club will do with the money will be decided later, but the probability is that it will be devoted to the purchase of a piano.

It appears now that the big question that will come before the next congress will be the extension of rural mail routes. By the end of this year 25,000 new routes will be in operation and for their maintenance an increasing appropriation amounting to 3,000,000 will be required, while other costs incident to starting them will have to be met. It is figured that the department will be compelled to ask congress for an appropriation of at least 20,000,000 for this service alone.

TEXAS BOLL WEEVIL

Eats $30,000,000 Worth of Good Cotton Every Year.

His Appetite Will Make Clothing Prices Higher—Lone Star State Offers $50,000 Reward for a Way to Kill Him.

Housewives of America, you have a new insect enemy, and his name is Mr. Boll Weevil.

Now, don't run for the corrosive sublimate bottle, or the cute little blowgun full of insect powder, or the moth balls, or the sticky fly paper. He's not in your house, and you can't get at him.

Mr. Boll Weevil is busy eating cotton in the wide cotton fields of Texas. He eats cotton at the rate of $3,000,000 worth a year. If the time shortly comes when you have to pay seven cents, instead of five cents, for a spool of machine cotton, and from three to five cents a yard more for all the dainty dimities and lawns and organdies with which you delight to attire yourself and your sunny-haired little daughters, you will have only Mr. Boll Weevil to thank for it.

"Who is he, and where did he come from, and what has he done?" These are more interesting questions than you know. Here are some of the things he already has done, according to the Chicago American:

He has made W. P. Brown, chief factor in the cotton market, half a million dollars richer by the rise in cotton in a single day.

He has become so menacing that the state government of Texas has offered a reward of $50,000 for any means that may be devised to vanquish him.

He has caused a serious shortage in this year's cotton crop.

He has baffled the entomologists of the federal government in their efforts to check his ravages.

He has brought together a convention of 500 busy men at Dallas, Tex., to plot his assassination.

THE BOLL WEEVIL.
(Cotton Eating Pest Magnified Over Fifty Times.)

And he is only a tiny bug.

The boll weevil is a beetle with a huge proboscis, and came originally from Mexico. The extension of cotton growing in the southern counties of Texas made a bridge for him to cross the Rio Grande, and he was first noticed in Bee county, Tex., in 1894. The agricultural department experts proposed to the Texas legislature to stop growing cotton along the river for two years, and starve the assassin out. "Who is going to pay the planters for this sacrifice?" asked the legislators.

Since then the beetle has traveled at the rate of 75 miles to the northward, and 25 miles to the eastward every year. On Texas soil the weevil has thrived like the rabbit in Australia, for the females lay 300 to 700 eggs a year. They develop with the cotton boll itself, and eventually blight it so that it does not open.

Latest reports say that the pest is present in Louisiana and Georgia, as well as Arkansas. Boll weevil news has become a factor in the stock market; the bears try to suppress it. Louisiana opinion is that the soil and the climate of the state will prevent any further spread there. Arkansas and Georgia confidently hope the same.

Insecticide does no good. Going over the field with revolving brushes that sweep off the affected plants is too costly. The hope that a certain "green bug" which was the natural enemy of the weevil had been found was soon dashed. The damage to the crop is $30,000,000 a year in Texas.

Last year a large number of representative cotton men, with government experts and entomologists to advise, met in Dallas to begin a systematic fight against the enemy. At their behest the state government offered $50,000 to any one who would find a remedy for the evil. Thousands of methods have been exploited, without anybody having a shadow of a claim to the reward.

The Dallas convention just held consisted of men representing the cotton interests, not only of Texas, but of all parts of the south and even the north. Texas to-day would doubtless give $10,000,000 as quickly as it would have given $50,000 a year ago for a remedy.

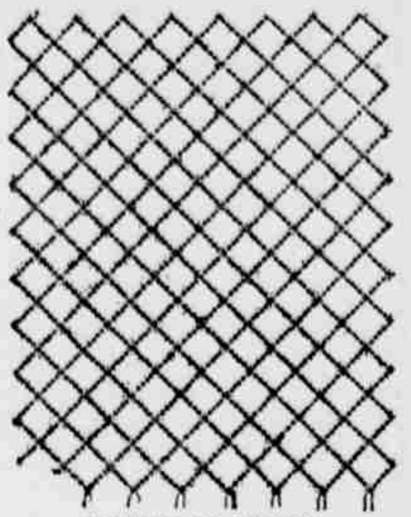
Made Captive Devour Mud.

Ben Michaels, George Dubery and Fred A. Rodgers were arrested at the Colfax (Wash.) county fair for kidnaping. They had a negro boy 14 years of age disguised as a wild girl from Cuba, and compelled him to eat mud. Rufus Stone, the boy's father, came from Spokane and charged the men with having kidnaped his son. They were doing a good business when arrested.

How to Make a Pretty Bead Purse

THE newest bead purse is very pretty in design, inexpensive and easily made. One needs to purchase only a spool of knitting silk—of whatever color is to predominate in the purse—five large beads and three bunches of small beads—two of one color and one of some contrasting shade.

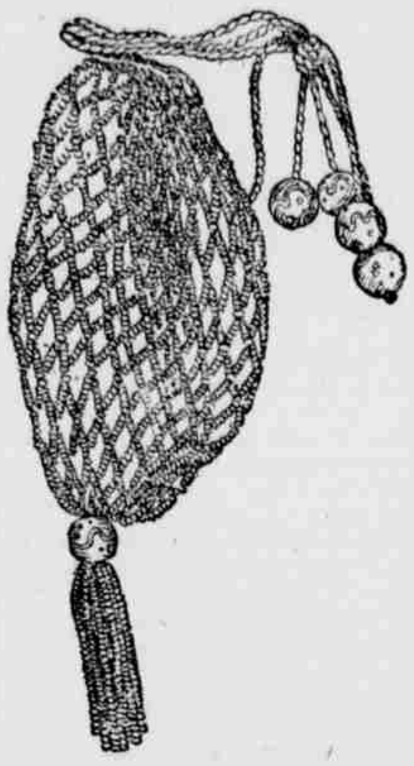
The purse here pictured is made in dark blue and green. Cut 24 strands of blue silk three-quarters of a yard in length. On one of these threads string one green bead, four blue, one green, four blue, and so on until you have 21 green beads. This is the first row. See that there are left at the bottom about five inches of plain thread, which is utilized later in making the tassel. Before beginning the second row proper add to the first row four blue beads, one green and four blue. These extra beads at the top will provide a place for the draw-strings. Now start backward along the first row, putting the thread through the fourth green bead—taking into account the extra ones just added. Continue stringing four blue, one green, four blue, etc., and put the thread through every other green bead. When the end is reached put the thread through the last bead at the end of the first row—which will be green—and knot securely.



SECTION OF DESIGN.

Take a second thread and after stringing one green and four blue beads, put the thread through the second green bead of the second row. Proceed exactly as with the first thread, and continue in the same manner with 23 threads and half of the twenty-fourth. Thus there are 47 rows. The last thread—the forty-eighth row—is used to fasten together the two edges of the work. In this use only blue beads, but draw the thread through every green bead instead of every other as heretofore. Thus the purse appears to consist of a great number of little blue bead squares at each corner of which is a green bead.

Knot the threads securely at the bottom in groups of four or five, cutting off close to the knot about half the threads in each group. The tassel would be too heavy if all 48 threads were used. Eighteen or 20 are enough. Slip a large bead over all these threads so that it is firm at the base of the and although it may be worked out in a solid color the two make it more effective, red with white, gold or black, dark blue with white or gold, black with white, brown with white, light blue with white, gold or silver, or white with gold are all pretty combinations. The light blue or white are especially dainty to carry with light dresses. The purses may be worn drawn through the belt or merely carried in the hand.—Detroit Free Press. purse. Make each strand of the tassel 36 beads long. Thirty blue with six green at the end is a good combination. For the draw-string take four threads about a yard and a half long, twist together tightly, double, and twist again. Make a second cord in the same way.



THE FINISHED PURSE.

Weave them through the top of the purse, draw-string fashion, and after fastening a large bead at each of the four ends the purse is complete.

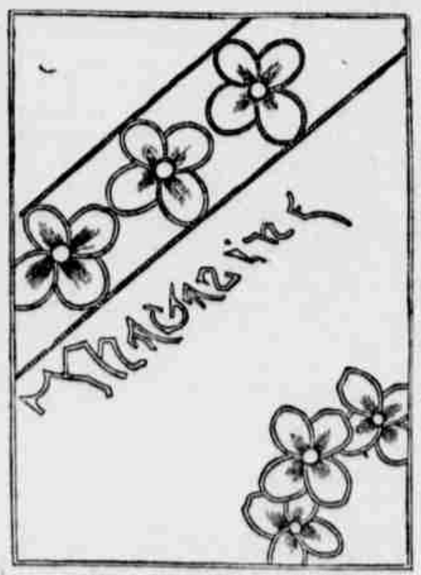
The pattern may of course be made smaller. The size here described, however, admits of carrying not only one's change but a key and handkerchief as well. It is a pretty idea to have a purse to harmonize with one's suit,

MAGAZINE HOLDER.

A Neat Little Bit of Fancy Work, Suitable for a Birthday or Anniversary Present.

A piece of brown Holland linen is folded in the size and shape of your favorite magazine, the inside folded and tacked into shape just as a paper cover to a book would be, in order to slip in the one designed for it. The outside is decorated in conventional dogwood blossoms.

Couch down gold cord with filo of the same color in two rows, and between the cords place three blossoms of the dogwood. The outlines of the blossoms are of the gold cord and the shadings a pinkish white of the Asiatic filo shaded into a pale green. The centers may be filled in with gold thread in knot stitch. The design in the corners is carried out in the same way, and a gold cord is couched along the edge in the same way. Outline the word "Magazine" in gold cord.—Boston Globe.



THE HOLDER COMPLETED.

How to Preserve Linoleum.

Sweep, and then wipe it with a flannel, and when all the dust and spots are removed, rub with a waxed cloth, and then polish with a dry, soft cloth. Use very little bees' wax, and do not polish too much, or it will become slippery. Washing occasionally with milk after it has been polished will keep it glossy.

Using Short Lamp Wicks.

By cutting a piece of flannel or cloth the width of wick and sewing it on to the latter, it will conduct oil to burner as if it was a long length of wick.

PRINCESS OF FLANDERS.

Future Queen of the Belgians Is One of the Most Popular Scions of European Royalty.

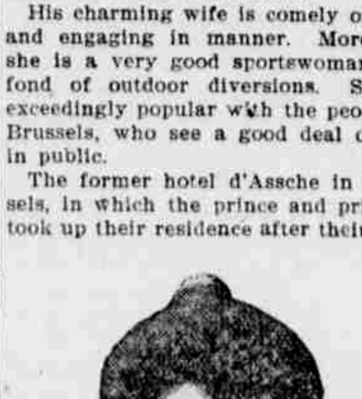
One of the most popular scions of royalty in Europe is Princess Albert of Flanders, the young and attractive wife of the heir presumptive to the throne of Belgium. She was married to Prince Albert, son of the count of Flanders, October 2, 1900, being at the time Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria.

A son was born to the royal couple in November, 1901, and was named Leopold, after the present king of the Belgians.

Before his marriage, Prince Albert had visited the United States, spending a few days in Boston and being entertained at the white house.

His charming wife is comely of face and engaging in manner. Moreover, she is a very good sportswoman and fond of outdoor diversions. She is exceedingly popular with the people of Brussels, who see a good deal of her in public.

The former hotel d'Assche in Brussels, in which the prince and princess took up their residence after their brilliant marriage in Munich, is one of the most homelike and comfortable of the royal palaces of Europe.



PRINCESS OF FLANDERS.

The private apartments of the princess include a bedroom and dressing room, the former being tapestried in rose pink, the princess' favorite color, set in panels of white painted wood, enriched with gilding. The furniture is of rosewood and marquetry and the hangings are of floral design. The dining room, salon and gallery of the palace are magnificent in their appointments.

Day of Thanks and Rejoicing.

The President has issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation in the following terms:

By the President of the United States of America:

The season is at hand when, according to the custom of our people, it falls upon the President to appoint a day of praise and thanksgiving to God.

During the last year, the Lord has dealt bountifully with us, giving us peace at home and abroad and the chance for our citizens to work for their welfare unhindered by war, famine, or plague. It behooves us not only to rejoice greatly because of what has been given us, but to accept it with a solemn sense of responsibility realizing that under Heaven, it rests with us, ourselves, to show that we are worthy to use aright what has thus been entrusted to our care.

In no other place and at no other time has the experiment of government of the people, for the people been tried on so vast a scale as here in our own country in the opening years of the twentieth century. Failure would not only be a dreadful thing for us, but a dreadful thing for all mankind, because it would mean loss of hope for all who believe in the power and righteousness of liberty.

Therefore, in thanking God for the mercies extended to us in the past we beseech Him that He may not withhold them in the future, and that our hearts may be roused to war steadfastly for good and against all the forces of evil, public and private. We pray for strength and light, so that in the coming years we may with cleanliness, fearlessness and wisdom, do our allotted work on earth in such manner as to show that we are not altogether unworthy of the blessings we have received.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving, Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land people cease from their wonted occupations, and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for His manifold mercies.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Unsted States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this thirty-first day of October, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and three, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

By the President.
John Hay, Secretary of State.

It looks as if a man's back is the center of strength when he is straining to lift or haul a heavy weight. But the center of strength is not the back, but the stomach. There's no strength in the back of a giant if he's starving. All strength is made from food, and food can only be converted into strength when it is perfectly digested and assimilated. When the stomach is diseased, the nutrition of food is lost and physical weakness follows.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes men strong and muscular, by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food eaten.

"I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Av., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a number of remedies without success. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor work. A friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken three bottles and it has accomplished a permanent cure."

A FIVE-DOLLAR SMOKE.

Kind That Is Shown to Customers Who Want the Most Expensive in the Store.

Five dollars for a cigar! And if you bought a hundred of them you would have to pay $500, with no discount off for cash, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"No, we don't sell many of them," said a clerk to a curious customer. "Sometimes a sporty-looking individual, evidently from out of town, comes in here and wants 'the best cigar in the shop.' He means the most expensive, of course, and the $5 cigar is shown to him. This is the way we get rid of most of them. Of course, they are worth $5, if you don't care for expenses. They are all Havana, including the wrapper. This is what makes them cost so much. The cigars are five times as large as the ordinary one, and it is extremely difficult to get a leaf of Havana large enough for a wrapper. In 1,000 'hands' of tobacco we won't find one leaf of the requisite size and quality.

"The last one we sold was two weeks ago. A boy of the messenger type came in here and sidled up to the counter.

"'Gimme a fi' dollar cigar,' he demanded.

"'Run along,' I said.

"By way of answer he threw a $5 bill on the counter and repeated his request. I gave the cigar to him and he went out. I suppose some one must have sent him for it, possibly a cigar manufacturer, who wanted to keep his identity hidden."

BENEFITS OF CO-OPERATION

These Are Not So Fully Realized as They Might Be.

[Special Correspondence.]

One of the incidental benefits of membership in the grange is the possibility of co-operation in the buying and selling of farm products and farm supplies. We had almost said the advantage was more ideal than real. In but few granges is the co-operative idea carried out to anything near its limit. In many granges the idea does not exist.

That co-operation is successful among farmers we need only to refer to two or three well known instances to prove. Fourteen years ago 500 Iowa farmers combined in a regularly incorporated organization to dispose of their products and to buy supplies at a reduced rate. Their capital stock is about $25,000, each share being worth $10. None except practical farmers may hold shares, and no member can hold more than ten shares. Last year they did a business of more than $620,000, with an expense of less than $4,000, and in the total existence of the company it has done more than $5,000,000 worth of business without the loss of a dollar. A general agent manages the concern, which buys all the products from the members and markets them to much better advantage than the individual members possibly could. It buys supplies for the farmer's family, home and farm in car lots at wholesale prices and sells them to him at just a sufficient advance to cover the company's expenses.

A co-operative organization of Danish dairy farmers may also be cited. It was formed in 1882, and now there are 1,057 co-operative dairies in Denmark, which, with their equipment, have cost over $7,000,000. They are owned by about 140,000 shareholders and receive milk from 850,000 cows. During 1900 about 3,700,000,000 pounds of milk were delivered to these dairies, and the total production of butter from them was 137,000,000 pounds at a value of about $36,000,000. This is doing things on a large scale, it is true, but it is doing them. With the spirit and the purpose which the Iowa organization or the Danish dairymen displayed even in much lesser degree, what could not be accomplished in a fraternal order like the grange? The Pomona grange should give more attention to co-operative buying and selling. It could make itself a powerful commercial factor in the county; so might the subordinate grange in its narrower field. We preach co-operation, but do we practice it?

A PATRON.

Making Attractive Homes.

To enhance the comforts and attractions of our homes and to strengthen our attachment to our pursuit are among the objects of the grange. When we compare the homes of farmers where there are no granges with those where the grange is strongest we do not have to be very keen to see a vast difference in the surroundings. There is a section of the state where there is an ignorant prejudice against the grange because it is advancing modern ideas as applied to agriculture. In such communities you will see the women carrying water long distances from the well, while the men folk sit around the kitchen, and the slops and dishwater are thrown outside the kitchen door for want of a drain, and the pigpen is within ten feet of the house, so as to be handy to feed the hogs. No such condition exists where there is a grange. It teaches cleanliness and thrift and has been the means of making better sanitary conditions in farm homes. It means something definite when we say in our declaration that we are banded together to enhance the beauty and comfort of our homes.—G. A. Fuller.

Co-operative Insurance In Ohio.

There are now said to be 112 mutual insurance associations in Ohio, with a total volume of risks of over $188,000,000. The Patrons' Mutual, located in Logan county, O., has been in operation for more than twenty-four years and has carried its members for one-ninth of 1 per cent. There has been no effort made to solicit members, but when an honest and honorable man applies for membership his application is passed upon by the board of officers and is accepted or rejected by a vote of the members. In this way hazardous risks are frequently avoided and the association has run as long as six years without any losses. And in the twenty-four years there has only been one year in which the losses were so heavy as to make the cost as much as it would have been in a stock company, says one of its members.

The Grange In Washington.

The present secretary of agriculture, Mr. Wilson, is a member of the grange. The assistant secretary of agriculture, J. H. Brigham, is a member and is past master of the national grange. The grange keeps a national legislative committee at Washington to look after legislation bearing on the farmer's interests.

The excellent showing universally made by grange mutual insurance companies is due to care in selection of risks, economy of administration and careful supervision.

FALL CARE OF COWS.

When Pastures Are Getting Bare It Pays to Haul a Little Fodder to the Field.

In the feeding of dairy cows two seasons are recognized by the average dairyman. These are the winter feeding season and the summer season. In the former case the animals are entirely dependent upon what grain and fodder are alloted to them, there being no opportunity for grazing afforded. The very opposite of this is true during the summer season, the animals being expected to hunt their own living. The transition from one season to another frequently causes a falling off in the milk supply. This is particularly true in the fall when the animals are left to shift for themselves after the nights become cold. The fact is lost sight of that a dairy animal is of rather delicate constitution, and on this account cannot withstand the hardships which the beef animal can bear.

It is an exceedingly good plan to allow cows to have shelter at night after the first of October. If they are put in the stable or in sheds and fed a small grain ration night and morning, together with a little fodder, they will liberally respond to such treatment at milking time, and will more than pay for the food fed in this way, and the labor involved in caring for them. While the days remain warm they are just as well out in the pasture, as there is no food better adapted for milk production than good grass. Grass is also economical, and for this reason one should endeavor to extend the grazing season just as long as possible. If pastures are getting a little bare, it will generally pay to haul a little fodder to the field. This may be cornfodder, sorghum, Kaffir corn, millet or any crops of this character. It is never a good plan to turn cows onto frosted grass after having kept them in the stable during the night, it being much better to keep them housed until the grass is approaching dryness.—Midland Farmer.

CORN FOR THE CALVES.

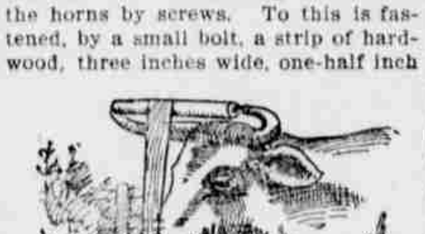
After Fifteen Years of Experience Writer Declares It to Be the Very Best Food.

My experience in raising calves extends over fifteen years. Of course, everyone knows how to feed calves, but many do not know just what is best to feed. Ask me, and I will say "shelled corn." "When do you begin?" I begin when the calf is three days old. Feed it just a few kernels at first and gradually increase to a pint by the time the calf is six weeks old. They chew it all up. I never knew a calf to pass a whole grain. I never feed a calf more than two quarts of milk at a feeding. If I am raising calves for milkers I do not feed them enough to make them fat. I have experimented with all manner of ground foods, but none of them equal shelled corn. My calves' hair is sleek and glossy; they are growing rapidly; they run and frisk about and are always ready to eat corn. My neighbor, who persists in feeding his calves all the milk they can drink, besides a couple of quarts of ground feed, has funny looking calves. They are little, pot-gutted things; hair standing on end. They have the scours nearly all the time; lie around half asleep. I wouldn't trade one of mine for a dozen of his. In short, if you want good calves feed them corn; if you want poor, worthless animals, feed them something else.—I. H. Watt, in Practical Farmer.

USUALLY EFFECTS CURE.

Common-Sense Device for Preventing Cows Throwing Fences or Hooking Each Other.

This is my style of a device to prevent cattle throwing fences or hooking other cows. It is made of a wooden strip two and one-half inches wide, and three-fourths inch thick, being attached to the horns by screws. To this is fastened, by a small bolt, a strip of hardwood, three inches wide, one-half inch thick, and of a length sufficient to reach downward within one inch of the face, and to within two or three inches of the nostrils. In the lower end of this strip are previously driven several sharp nails, which project about one-fourth inch. The arrangement, when properly attached, allows the animal to eat and drink with all ease, but when an attempt is made to hook or to throw a fence, the sharpened nails soon cause an abrupt cessation of that kind of mischief.—S. E. Fletcher, in Farm and Home.



FOR FENCE LIFTERS.

Poor Cream Closed Factory.

Poor cream caused the closing of a new creamery in Minnesota recently. The buildings had been erected and equipped at considerable expense and everything was first-class. A large supply of cream was received, but the cream itself was very poor. The farmers said they had too much work to do to bring their cream in more than once a week, and the consequence was that the cream received was of exceptionally poor quality. The butter made was of course correspondingly poor and the money received for it was not sufficient to pay expenses and yield a profit. Hence the creamery shut down. It was found to be impossible to build up a valuable reputation on poor butter.—Farmers' Review.

GRANGE NEWS.

By J. T. Ailman, Press Correspondent and Secretary Penn'a. State Grange.

TWO IMPORTANT MEETINGS.

Through these columns I desire to call the attention of Pennsylvania Patrons to the favorable opportunity near at hand of attending what now promises to be two of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of their kind in the history of the order.

First the thirt-seventh annual session of the National Grange, held in Rochester, New York, November 11 to 19th, inclusive, opening with a public meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th at 8 o'clock. On Wednesday at 11 a. m., opening session of National Grange that evening at 8 o'clock the sixth, or degree of "Flora" (flowers) will be conferred followed on the next evening at the same hour, by the seventh or degree of "Ceres" (Godess of cereals) the highest and most beautiful degree of the Order. The Hon. E. B. Morris, of Sodeus, Master of the New York State Grange, has asked for twenty-five hundred candidates for this degree. Will not you be one of them? Any fourth degree member in good standing is eligible to the higher degrees. Friday evening, Nov. 13th there will be exhibition work of the subordinate degrees. All the business sessions are to convene in the fourth degree, at 10:30 a. m., 2nd 8 p. m., unless otherwise ordered, and all fourth degree members are invited to attend.

Second, but perhaps first in importance to Pennsylvania Patrons is the Wilkes-Barre meeting, when on Dec. 8th next, the thirty-first annual session of the State Grange is to convene in the ninth regiment Armory hall, ample in size to accommodate the many who will assemble in the picturesque Wyoming Valley, on the banks of the winding Susquehanna, in this anthracite coal city, of some sixty thousand population. The large Nesbit opera house has been secured for degree work on Wednesday evening.

The local committee of arrangements, as well as other workers, have well in hand perfecting of the programme, which will embrace many interesting features.

Asking you with candor and earnestness to strive, if possible; to attend these meetings, firm in the opinion that you will be benefitted, not only as a Patron, but as an American farmer, citizen and man by so doing.

I am very fraternally,
A. M. Cornell,
Lecturer Penn'a. State Grange.

Come to State Grange meeting at Wilkes-Barre and be enthused for the work of the coming year.

Miola grange, No. 1101, Clarion county, initiated a class of 32 during quarter ending June 30th, 1903.

Mrs. Della Hunsinger, Lady Asst. Steward, of Penn'a. State Grange, writes: "Colley Grange, No. 365, Sullivan county, was organized in 1874. Meetings were held in an old school house for a number of years. Regular meetings have been held ever since the organization. Three charter members are still on the roll. We now have a membership of 80; own four acres of land, have a barn that will hold 50 horses, cut hay enough to feed when needed and have a three-story hall with all necessary appliances. We have just initiated a class of four, making a gain of eight for this year.

I have also visited Wilmot grange, No. 512, Bradford county. They have lecture hours and a question box and of course interesting meetings.

I have also visited New Albany grange, No. 205, reorganized this year. Their membership is increasing and their prospects for the future are good.

Turtle Point Grange, No. 1236, McKean county, admitted a class of 22 during the quarter just ending.

Two new granges were organized in Penn'a. during the month ending Oct. 20th, 1903. One at Hegins, Schuylkill county and one at Montalto, Franklin county. The former by Bro. Chas. Haskins and the latter by Worthy State Master, W. F. Hill.

Both the Trunk Line and the Central Passenger Association have granted open excursions for the meeting of the Penn'a. State Grange, at Wilkes-Barre. Thus any one wishing to attend can get an excursion ticket without card orders.

For quarter ending Sept. 30th 1903, Fidelity Grange, No. 1238, McKean county, initiated a class of twenty-six.

A BATTLE IN THE AIR.

Sparrows Attack a Host of Dragon Flies and Are Put to Ignominious Flight.

The Hochi of Tokyo prints the following wonderful tale: "On the 23d ult., at four p. m., that part of airy space that overcanopies a slope commonly called Notoyazaka, which forms part of Ubagamimachi, in Yesashi, Hokkaido, became the scene of sanguinary battle between hostile forces of winged creatures. The combatants were 100 swallows on the one side and millions of dragon flies on the other. If inferior in number, the swallows were certainly superior in intellectual and physical powers to their opponents on the occasion in question, as one would believe, and everybody had but one opinion as to the end of the mid-air contest.

"But the unexpected happened, and after charges and countercharges, and other aeronautic movements ending in 'at close quarter' fighting of some duration, the swallows beat a hasty retreat, or rather disgraced themselves by the most confused flight ever indulged in by a vanquished enemy. Then the victorious dragon flies flew about that particular portion of the sky with the unmistakable 'air' of noble conquerors, performing all sorts of 'assertive' antics, which included airy curacoling, evolutions, soarings, plunging, etc., all sufficiently significant and all tending to proclaim the fact of their undisputed occupation of the atmospheric superficies over the Notoyazaka."

STOP FOOT BINDING.

Chinese Women Organize Club to Improve Their Understanding—Reforms That Might Follow.

According to the North China Herald, there is a movement along the Hoang-Ho to improve the standing of Chinese women. Tien Tsu Hui, the Society of the Natural Feet, has been established, its sole purpose being the extermination of pedal slavery throughout the Celestial kingdom. Its membership, as yet totally inadequate to expedite progress, is composed, says the New York Herald, of native and foreign women. Its first step toward reform is the publication of its propaganda and a petition to foreigners to aid in freeing Chinese women from mortifying customs.

When you come right down to the bottom of the matter it is time the women of China were given a chance to catch up with their western sisters. There is no reason on earth to believe they are not naturally gifted with as broad an understanding. The project, therefore, should not be footless. If there is anything in the old saying, "He who runs may read," their new footing ought to affect their education.

It is not anticipated that the innovation will mean any marked difference in the rhythm of Chinese poetry. It may, however, cause confusion for future anthropologists who concern themselves with Chinese footprints on the sands of time.

COST OF CLOTHES IN RUSSIA.

Men Pay About Seven and a Half Dollars a Year and the Women Only Three.

Barring the inhabitants of the earth who wear practically no clothes at all, the costume of the average Russian costs the least. Ten rubles, or about $7.50, will clothe a male citizen of the czar's realm, while the woman's costume will cost less than $3.

The man's costume, says an exchange, consists of coarse cotton trousers tucked into boots of half-dressed leather, a cotton shirt, and a sheepskin coat. A coarse Camlet caften bound around with a sash completes the dress.

The women wear a sarafan, or long petticoat, which is held up by straps running over the shoulders, a chemise with sleeves to the elbow, a kerchief over the head, and a pair of shoes. Stockings are sometimes worn, but more frequently the legs and feet are bound with strips of cotton or linen cloth. For outdoor wear a quilted jacket or long cloak is added.

The simplicity and cheapness of the dress is not due to any lack of vanity, but to the poor circumstances under which the majority of the Russians live.

Some Odd Tests.

The department of agriculture has undertaken a series of experiments intended to answer, if possible, the old question: "How long can seeds remain in the soil, and still retain their power of germination?" In 1901 Dr. Beal reported that he had found seeds which responded to germination tests after having been buried 20 years. The seeds buried by the agricultural department at the Arlington farm are packed with dry clay in porous clay pots, covered with saucers and placed at various depths, from six inches to three and a half feet. There are 32 complete sets, in 3,584 pots, representing 109 species, 84 genera and 34 families. Tests are to be made at the end of 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 40 and 50 years.

A Night's Journey.

There is conclusive evidence to show that in one unbroken nocturnal flight the European bird known as the northern bluethroat passes from Central Africa to the German sea, a distance of 1,600 miles, making the journey in nine hours. From its winter home in Africa observations have determined that it starts after sunset, arriving at its far northern summer haunts before dawn the next morning.

Chicago's Shipments of Meat.

Dressed beef to the amount of 1,049,801,765 pounds, 909,918 cattle, 831,728 sheep, 1,251,798 hogs, 150,615 pounds of dressed pork, 382,498,069 pounds of lard, and 660,869,799 pounds of meat in various forms were shipped out of Chicago during 1902.

A Clever Swindler.

Bankers and merchants should be on the lookout for a clever swindler, J. K. Dillman, who operates with forged checks. Dillman's scheme is to enter a bank or store about closing time usually in his shirt sleeves and with a pen behind his ear, and ask if a nearby house in which he is employed could have a check cashed, it being short of money. If the answer is in the affirmative Dillman walks back to the store and immediately returns with a forged check. Upon receiving the money he retraces his steps to the store, enters, asks some trivial questions of the book-keeper and departs by another door. Dillman has operated successfully in many Pennsylvania and New Jersey towns.

The sun always has time to burn.

The English "Society for the Prevention of Consumption" presided over by the Prince of Wales, was recently addressed by Sir William Broadbent, who stated that it was definitely known that every case of consumption began with a germ communicated from some other case. There is no such thing as inherited consumption. There may be local weakness which tends to consumption, but the germ has absolutely to be planted in that weak spot before consumption can ensue. This ought to comfort thousands of people who have "weak chests" or "weak lungs." They are not foreordained victims of this dread disease. All that is needed to bid absolute defiance to this deadly scourge, is to be able to strengthen the weak lungs, and build up a strong body. The answer to this need is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It so purifies the blood and increases the blood supply, that disease is thrown off, and the weak organs are nourished into perfect health, which defies germs of every kind. People, given up by doctors, emaciated, bleeding at the lungs, with obstinate, lingering coughs, are being cured every day by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery." It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

MISS WINIFRED MUMMA.

Sudden Death of Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis L. Mumma.

The announcement of the sudden death of Miss Winifred Irene Mumma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis L. Mumma, which occurred at Huntingdon, Pa. on Thursday, was a shock to her many friends in Bloomsburg. During the construction of the Columbia & Montour Electric Railway, Miss Mumma, spent some time in Bloomsburg with her father, who was a member of the firm of M. F. D. Scanlan & Co. contractors for the road. She was here on the evening the first car was run from the car barn to Jefferson street, which occurred on July 30th 1901, on which occasion she acted as the motorman. She was a granddaughter of Hon. B. F. Meyers, of Harrisburg, president of the road. In its account of her death the Harrisburg Patriot of Friday says: Miss Mumma only a short time ago spent a week with her grandparents here, before going to Pittsburg to attend a house party at the home of ex-Governor William A. Stone.

When here she complained of a slight cold, but seemed in her usual good health, but on Monday of last week Miss Mumma left Pittsburg, going to the home of her aunt, Mrs. B. F. Africa, at Huntingdon. On arrival there it was found that her temperature had risen to the alarming height of 105 degrees, and that she was suffering from a severe case of typhoid fever. Dr. C. A. Rahter of this city, was sent for, and her parents were summoned from Sea Girt, N. J., their summer home, but in spite of the best medical aid, she died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Her brother, Benjamin Meyers Mumma, studying at the naval preparatory school in Annapolis, arrived in Huntingdon only a few hours before her death.

Miss Mumma was well known in musical life and was a violinist of much talent. She was a pupil of Ysaye, the Spanish virtuoso. Two years ago she made her debut at the home of her grandfather and was very well liked among the younger social set.

The funeral took place from the residence of her grand parents Saturday afternoon. Many friends from this city, Huntingdon. Philadelphia and Pittsburg were present, the house being filled.

The services, beside the casket, which was surrounded by flowers, were conducted by the Rev. Earnest F. Smith, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. D. M. Gilbert, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, and Rev. Dr. Ellis N. Kremer, pastor of the Salem Reformed church. The services were very simple. Mr. Smith read the Episcopal burial service and made a short address and a quartette singing "Peace, Perfect Peace," and the beautiful words of "Abide With Me".

The interment was made in the Meyers vault, in the Harrisburg Cemetery.

Will Have Waiting Room.

The Columbia & Montour Electric Railway Company is negotiating with the First National Bank people for the lease of the frame building on the Square now occupied by the Bloomsburg Locomobile Club. If they succeed in securing it, and the indications are that they will it will be converted into an office and waiting room for the accommodation of the public. There has long been a need for a room of the sort, particularly in the cold weather, where passengers waiting for cars can take shelter, and it would be impossible for the company to find a more desirable building.

November 24th is the date of the Wheelmen's mastodon entertainment.

Snyder Surprised 'Em.

The great live bird shoot between the team represented by John G. Harman and that headed by O. B. Bellick was pulled off on the grounds of the Rupert Gun and Rod Club, Saturday afternoon. Harman says the result was no surprise in fact he wonders that the defeat was not more emphatic. The surprise of the afternoon, was the work of I. A. Snyder. He shot in William Cody fashion, and but one out of ten got away from him. The old "ringers" will probably bear him in mind when arranging future events. The scores made follow:

HARMAN'S TEAM.

A Delightful Dance.

The dance given by the young ladies of Bloomsburg and Catawissa in Ervin's hall, Catawissa, last Friday evening, was as we predicted, one of the most attractive and enjoyable affairs of recent years. The hall was magnificently decorated, with flags, bunting, autumn leaves, corn and pumpkins. Everyone complimented the young ladies on the beautiful appearance of the hall and it certainly did give evidence of a rare degree of knowledge on the part of those who had this feature in charge. Oppenheim's orchestra furnished delightful music. Every dance on the program was encored, some of them twice and several extra ones added on. The young ladies are certainly to be congratulated on the great success of the affair, and to them everyone who attended is indebted for an evening of genuine pleasure. The Bloomsburg guests arrived home on a special car arriving here about 3:15 in the morning.

Esau, the Snake Eater Dying of a Bite.

"Esau, the snake eater," who was a side attraction with the John Robison circus and who, when the circus was in Bloomsburg, exhibited in a wagon, on the corner of Market street, is dying at Lake Charles, La., of a snake bite with no hope of recovery. While putting into his mouth the head of a rusty moccasin, caught a few minutes before on the banks of Lake Charles, he was bitten on the tongue. When in Bloomsburg, the writer heard him offer to put into his mouth any snake that could be brought to him.

It was impossible to ascertain Sheriff elect Black's official majority this morning. Prothonotary Terwilliger and clerk, Freeze Quick were busily engaged on the returns, but up to the time of going to press they could not give us the exact vote. We can state however, that his majority will be a handsome one, and considerably larger than he expected. It is a pleasing testimonial of the esteem in which he is held, and he extends his sincere thanks to the voters for their support.

The trackless trolley at Athens was put into operation the other day. It will be used for three weeks and then removed to Scranton. These trials are simply to demonstrate to the public the advantage of that sort of transportation. Its convenience and its cheapness are the main points. The cost per mile for constructing trackless trolleys is about $1,600 as against $12,000 per mile for ordinary electric lines.

Jeremiah Berger of Iola, was in town on Wednesday, and made this office a pleasant call. He is one of our old subscribers, and carried away with him a receipt that pays his subscription up to 1905. He is the first one who has paid that far ahead.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Arrangements are being made for a recital on the fine organ in St. Paul's church, by Mr. William P. Twaddell, organist and choirmaster of Christ's church, Rye, N. Y. He has selected Thursday November 19th, as his date. All lovers of music may be assured of a musical treat. An offering will be taken up for the expenses of the recital, and for the Choir Fund of St. Paul's. Everybody is cordially invited.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Mr. Clifford I. Venie, who will appear hear to-night, is a most accomplished actor. His remarkable changes from the gentle Dr. Jekyll to the fiendish Mr. Hyde are awe striking. No less wonderful are the changes from Mr. Hyde to Dr. Jekyll, supposed to be wrought by the use of a wonderful chemical. Mr. Venie's support is of the best, and the comedy interspersed, and the specialties tend to make a much more enjoyable entertainment than the old version, which was utterly devoid of comedy.

'Twas a loving couple that came down from Berwick Tuesday evening, and as they strolled along our leading thoroughfare, both totally oblivious to their surroundings, they were the cynosure of many eyes. "Well what do you say?" inquired the Romeo of his fondest hopes, as the pair reached the corner of Main and Iron streets. There was a crimson flush in her face and with a look of still alarm and in a voice liquid as the Susquehanna, she answered, "I don't care". The words were sufficient to complete his evident beatitude, and arm in arm they moved down Iron street. But they were disappointed, the minister of the young lady's choice was not in and she didn't care to have the knot tied by any other. If she really wanted the fellow she made a mistake in not taking him when he was in the humor. It may never occur to him again.

A stranger within our gates on Sunday was heard to remark, "Bloomsburg is simply crazy on stocks, particularly mining stocks." It must be admitted that his statement does not lack truth, and a word of warning is not out of order. Don't be deceived by pretty stories. It is as unreasonable to expect mining to be remunerative except through hard work and knowledge, as it is to look for a millionaire to build a factory and give it to strangers. There must be "value received" and if the investor will look well to securing his dues, he may rest assured that the company will not be defrauded. Investigation is the most harped on and the least heeded course in deciding upon investments.

Did you ever happen across Max O'Rell's definition of luck? It is worth preserving and is as follows: "Luck means rising at 6 o'clock in the morning, living on a dollar a day if you earn two, minding your own business and not meddling with other people's. Luck means the appointments you have never failed to keep, the trains you have never failed to catch. Luck means trusting in God and your own resources. Max O'Rell never said a wiser thing and no better definition of "Luck" can be given. It should be printed in capitals and hung up in every office, counting room, workshop and family living room

Halloween passed off very quietly in town Saturday evening. There were numerous jokes perpetrated, but so far as we know nothing of an offensive nature was committed and no arrests were made. The younger generations were out in full force during the evening disguised with all sorts of grotesque makeups. It was the most orderly celebration of Halloween we have ever known.

The card issued by Mr. James Magee 2nd for the Carpet Mill party last Saturday evening was a pretty folder of four pages. The first page contained the invitation, the second page gave a list of committees, the third gave the musical program and the fourth a list of dances. The card was tied with red, white and blue silk ribbon.

Some of the weather sharps are predicting an open winter, basing their opinion on the fact that the witch hazel is in blossom, which they claim to be an infallible sign of a mild winter. Then too they say the hornets' nests are built upon the branches of saplings, a dead sure sign of a mild winter.

Mrs. Ella Crawford, relict of the late Glen Crawford, and daughter of Hon. Alexander Billmeyer, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Philadelphia, Sunday morning last, aged thirty-seven years. The funeral occurred from the home of her father near Washingtonville yesterday morning.

Miss Sadie Marr, an attendant at the Danville Hospital, died at that institution Monday night of typhoid fever. She is survived by her parents, three brothers and a sister. The latter is Miss Minnie Marr, of town. One of her brothers was shot in the eye while out hunting on Monday. The funeral will take place today at two o'clock.

Statistics show that fully twelve per cent. of the deaths in the United States are due to nervous diseases. We move too fast, fret too much and are too easily disturbed about both trifling and weighty things. Put on the brake and take things more calmly.

A preacher the other day remarked, "A swell wedding oft times is followed by divorce. A quiet trip to the parsonage may result in happiness". This is true in many cases. Live within your means.

A New Law.

A recently enacted law which will go into effect November 1 requires that all tobacco must be retailed from the original stamped package, and in selling cigars merchants must not hand them out or lay them loose on the counter but the customer must take them direct from the box.

LIVER TROUBLE CURED.

The Great New Medicine, Cal-cura Solvent, Drove the Disease Out of Mr. Larsen's System. Your Money Back if it Does Not Cure.

A proprietary medicine that is not without honor in the city where it is made must be a good thing. No chance for deception there, where everybody knows all about the men who make it. In Rondout, City of Kingston, N. Y., where Dr. David Kennedy lived and practiced for so many years, his new medicine is highly regarded and many wonderful cures have been wrought by it. There is Mr. Christopher Larsen, the leading painter and decorator of that city, who says:

"I have not had a sick day since I was cured of kidney and liver trouble, and painter's colic, by Dr. Kennedy's new medicine called Cal-cura Solvent. It drove the disease out of my system, so it never came back. Nothing like Cal-cura Solvent to purify the blood."

If your druggist does not have Cal-cura Solvent, write to the Cal-cura Company, Rondout, N.Y.; but ask your druggist first $1.00 a bottle. Only one size.

Guarantee: Your druggist will return your money if Cal-cura fails to cure, and The Cal-cura Company will pay the druggist. Remember, Cal-cura Solvent cures 98% of all cases of Kidney, Bladder and Liver disorders.

ARTHUR RIGBY,
COMEDIAN.

John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels appeared with the usual success in Boston and at a matinee performance the "spawn image" of Mrs. Partington, reticule and all, patronized the entertainment. All through the first part she was as frisky as a colt, attracted the attention of the entire audience, and was almost as diverting as Arthur Rigby and Lew Benedict, the comedians, who were "on" and played at the old lady with all their laugh-creating ability. In the midst of the festival of fun the old lady made a bolt for the exit, holding on to her sides with both hands. John Vogel met her with feigned sternness. "Don't you know, madam, it is against the rules to go out during the performance?" but relented when the duplicate of Mrs. Partington implored: "Please, Mr. Showman, let me out. I'll die a laughing or have a conniption fit if I stay in." John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels will appear at the Opera House next Wednesday night, Nov. 11.

Wonderful Bird Flight.

The most wonderful bird flight [illegible] is the migratory achievement of the Virginia plover, which leaves its northern haunts in North America, taking a course down the Atlantic, usually from 400 to 500 miles east of the Bermudas, reaches the coast of Brazil in one unbroken flight of 15 hours, covering a distance of 3,200 miles, at the rate of four miles a minute.

GOSPEL LIGHT HOUSE.

Coney Island Has a Unique Religious Refuge for Unfortunates of Every Variety.

A unique institution at Coney island is the Gospel lighthouse, which is presided over by Col. William D. Hughes and his wife.

Col. Hughes started in his mission work at the island four years ago with a small tent and a few camp stools. The "boosters" and "barkers" laughed at the "gospel shark" then, but they have since learned to respect him and he is now aided in his work by many of the most prominent business men and pleasure promoters on the island.

In the midst of the hurly-burly of roller coasters, merry go rounds and other noisy engines of amusement, he has built a church little different in architecture from the structures which surround it. The "lighthouse" adjoins the church and is a skeleton tower rising to a height of 65 feet above the sandy beach. The lantern at the summit of the tower, which can be seen from any point on the island, is an electric transparency on the four sides of which are emblazoned nightly the words "Jesus Saves."

THE GOSPEL LIGHTHOUSE.
(Located in the Midst of the Gayest Part of Coney Island.)

Many girls who have run away from their homes frequent the dance halls at Coney island every year. Some of them fall into the hands of the police. Magistrat Voorhees, who presides over the Coney island court, sends many of these to Col. Hughes. They are either returned by him to their parents or relatives until it is thought safe to send them out to employment with good surroundings. While living at the "lighthouse" girls are taught to sew and cook.

Col. Hughes and his family live over the chapel. On the outside of the building is a large sign that reads: "Always open. Pull the latch." Spiritual food and the more substantial variety as well are free to any who ask. There is but one table, and tramps are often invited to sit down with the family. The chapel is open afternoons and evenings week days and Sundays.

MONSTER HAILSTONES.

They Fell Not Long Ago in a Pennsylvania Town and Were Larger Than Hens' Eggs.

One sometimes hears a man speak of hailstones "as big as hens' eggs." The tale is perhaps told by a traveler, whose story is received with a shrug of the shoulders. The stones general fell in some far away place, and the ordinary unbelieving easterner puts it in the same category as Mexican dodos or Alkaskan sea serpents.

There was a hailstorm, however, not long ago, about which some 20,000 persons can hold up their hands and swear that they saw and picked up hailstones which were even larger than the average hens' eggs. The inhabitants of West Chester, Pa., which is 20 miles from Philadelphia, were suddenly overtaken by a brazen colored cloud, which threatened for a time, as many thought, to annihilate them. For two minutes the hailstones rattled on the roofs with the roar of thunder, and smashed windows, stripped trees of their leaves, killed chickens, birds, dogs and cats, and devastated fields of ripened crops. The storm went as suddenly as it came, and it was found to have covered not more than ten square miles of country.

A HEAVY HAILSTONE.
(It Measured More Than Two and a Half Inches in Diameter.)

Charles L. Robinson, a New York business man, chanced to be in West Chester at the time of the storm, and he watched the huge ice bullets from a porch.

"The roar of the falling ice," said Mr. Robinson, "inspired a sort of fear which I cannot describe. It was like the roar of cannon. I could see horses in the street which ran away from fright. The storm caused a fall in temperature of about 15 degrees. After it had passed I went out, and picked up several stones and measured them. Several were more than 2½ inches in diameter. In order that I might remember just how large they were, I traced the outlines of one of them on a paper by running a pencil around the edges."
